

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 1907.

THE DAILY COURIER, CONNELLSVILLE, PA.

THE ELKS' MINSTRELS

Committees Were Appointed at a Meeting Held Last Evening.

TO BE HELD ABOUT DECEMBER 15

New Season, Which Will Be Opened at That Time, Will Be Used—Vaudeville Talent From the Bijou Theatre Will Be Used on Two Nights.

———

A meeting of the committee appointed by Lodge No. 503, B. P. O. E., at a recent meeting to arrange for a minstrel performance met at the Hotel Columbia last evening and committees were appointed. The minstrels will be about the middle of December in the new Solson Theatre, which will be complete and open by that time. Margot, of the Bijou Theatre, has ranged to secure his performances for two evenings and the vaudeville appearing there will be put on in the Elks' show. Con Daly and Arthur O'Kane, the popular singers, will be on the bill. The following committees were appointed:

Minstrel Committee: Claude D. Anderson, Chairman; Fred Robbins, D. F. Girard, S. M. Goodman, J. B. McJard, Andrew Haas, T. V. Donegan.

Program Committee: D. F. Givard, Chairman; R. W. Leibiger, J. M. Doyle, John H. Doyle, S. Morton.

Tickets and Seats Committee: S. M. Goodman, Chairman; Howard Robbins, Secretary; S. B. Sticklethwaite, V. Donegan, John Dean, C. W. Patterson, James McGinn, John Irwin, J. W. Bishop, Frank C. Farland, Otto Haas, Benjamin Goldsmith, A. A. Straub, John Short, H. L. Smith, K. C. Reid, J. D. Madigan, George Snyder, Lazarus Buch, Vincent Baker, M. J. Rehland, S. E. Frock, H. L. Boslett, Clark Collins, Harry Dull, William Gallagher, Larimer Stillwagon, John Daly, F. J. Bauer, W. D. Gehriger. Audreys, George.

Reception Committee: W. R. Scott, chairman; William Stillwagon, Dr. H. F. Atkinson, William Stillwagon, Dr. J. L. Evans, Joseph DeMuth, W. D. McPherson, J. M. Doyle, H. M. Keppert, J. C. Kurtz, O. R. Carpenter, Harry Carpenter, T. B. Donnelly, Dr. T. E. Echard, Rockwell Marquis.

Advertising Committee: Fred Robbins, chairman; Raymond S. Coll, R. D. North, Ralph S. Morton, E. H. Kinney, Myer Aaron, C. A. Britt.

Costume Committee: D. F. Girard, Chairman; S. M. Goodman, H. J. Boslett.

Props.: P. H. Pendleton, R. S. Morton, Ralph E. Porter, J. N. Sibley, Jessie Whaley, Frank Scarry.

Music Committee: C. D. Anderson, chairman; T. V. Donegan, H. C. Hayes, F. A. Buttermore, Harry Dull, Fred Robbins.

NEAR BROADWAY.

Believed That Raymond Hitchcock Is in Hiding Near Scene of Alleged Crimes.

United Press Telegram.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—The growing belief here is that Raymond Hitchcock, the indicted actor, charged with wronging little girls, for whom a wide search is being instituted, is said to be not far from Broadway. Flora Zabelle, the actor's wife, continues her part in "The Yankee Trot."

Bella McKenzie, the young girl with whom Hitchcock, the missing actor, is alleged to have had with on the steamer, was found here today. Friends of the missing comedian say he has been in constant communication with her and that they will produce at her trial a statement from the girl.

Fredonia: Hitchcock deny any wrongdoing alleged being perpetrated by the actor. The girl explained that she never disappeared on account of the actority.

There is no trace whatever of Hitchcock, and his friends and the police are at a loss to know where to look for him.

MAGAZINE GOES UP.

Shakes Things in Vicinity of Butler During Night.

BUTLER, Pa., Nov. 2.—(Special)—By the explosion of the magazine of the Petroleum Torpedo Company, 13 miles from here and a short distance from Petrota, at midnight, several persons were injured and considerable property damaged.

Five hundred quarts of nitro-glycerine exploded from an unknown cause. The property loss is estimated at $25,000.

VIEWERS ASKED

To Determine Value of Lot Appropriated in Luzerne Township.

UNIONTOWN, Nov. 2.—The Luzerne township School Board has asked that three viewers be appointed to assess damage for a lot taken for school purposes which belonged to the Peter Lucas estate.

It was necessary for the Board to take the lot, but the estate refused to sell.

Teachers' Request Denied.

The teacher of Smith Union township asked the directors for an increase owing to the increased cost of living. The board turned down the request.

NINETY PRISONERS

In the County Jail at the Beginning of This Month.

UNIONTOWN, Nov. 1.—Sheriff M. A. Klefer begins this month with 90 prisoners in the county jail. During the month there were 234 names entered on the books of the jail, 155 being released.

Every month of this year has shown an increase in the number of prisoners over the same month of last.

NO SPECULATION

Took Place on the Stock Exchange This Morning—Stocks Show Moderate Decline.

United Press Telegram.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—For the outside took place on the floor of the Stock Exchange this morning. The board was closed to margin traders. Professors at speculators were on the floor and were buyers at the start, but liquidation orders appeared on moderate sellers. Closing out loans again turned the market, forcing declines of one or two points of many more active stocks. Government bonds are unchanged. Other bonds are irregular. The stock market closed irregularly the majority of the stock showing modish net losses.

The weekly bank statement shows the percentage of less deposits to be 21.4 per cent, against 29 per cent in the first statement was issued in 1899. There is no announcement of the amount of United States deposits held by national banks.

———

BIG CELEBRATION

Monessen Marks Opening of the Bridge Across Monongahela to Charleroi.

United Press Telegram.

MONESSEN, Nov. 2.—The town is filled with visitors and great plates have been made for the big celebration to mark the opening of the bridge across the Monongahela river to Charleroi. Promptly at 12.30 business men, Shurtliff of Monessen and business J. J. Holt of Charleroi met at the center of the structure, shook hands and formally opened the bridge.

Colonel J. M. Schenckman and General Manager J. B. Vose of the Pittsburg & Lake Erie were there, in addition to a number of other officials.

The principal address was made by Congressman James Francis Burke.

———

IN SOCIAL CIRCLES.

Miss Armstrong Entertains Friday Afternoon Card Club.

The Fielder Afternoon Card Club was charmingly entertained yesterday afternoon by Miss Helen Armstrong, the former Miss Elmer Singer of Pittsburg, who was a guest of the club.

The hours were from 2.30 until 5 o'clock and the games played were bridge and five hundred. Mrs. L. P. McCormick won the prize at five hundred, while Mrs. Harry Norton carried off the prize at bridge.

At the close of the games a pretty luncheon was served. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. L. H. East Fairchild avenue, Miss Eleanor Singer of Pittsburg was a guest of the club.

———

North Side Fancy Work Club.

The first meeting of the North Side Fancy Work Club for the current season was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Joseph King, West Cedar avenue, where the members decided to change the name of the club to the Silver Jubilee Club. The hours were 2.30 until 5 o'clock. The club is composed of 12 members and will meet bi-monthly. The meeting was a most delightful one, the feature being a fancy luncheon served about o'clock.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Anna Fleming on Highland avenue. The guests present were Miss Catherine Johnston of Pittsburgh and Miss Catherine Geyer of Scottdale.

———

Christian Endeavor Society.

At the business meeting of the Christian Endeavor Society of the Christian church last evening the President, Miss Nellie Edwards, presided.

The young ladies of the society decided to continue the Saturday meetings next Saturday to continue for three weeks. The young men plan an entertainment to be held in the near future. W. H. Martin of Unionsburg is the organizer.

On next Saturday evening, the young men will meet at the home of their recent trip to Scottdale in the lecture room of the Christian church.

———

Birthday Party.

Jesse K. Hilt of Scottdale and his wife, Mrs. George Dull, at their home on Highland avenue, honor of their son, Robert's 17th birthday. The evening was spent in various games and music until a late hour, when a sumptuous repast was served. Those present spent a very delightful evening.

———

Cawson Theatre.

Dawson is putting on metropolitan and this coming week with three attractions at the theatre, "Home Sweet Home," a scene and song comedy, "Alice in New York," and "Sissies in New York."

———

Missionary Circle Meets.

The regular meeting of the Ladies' Missionary Circle in the First Baptist church was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. T. McCormick on North Pittsburg street. The attendance was large and the meeting was an unusually interesting one. It was temperature 60°, and a short but interesting address on the subject was delivered by Rev. E. A. B. Palmer, the pastor. At the close of the business session refreshments were served.

———

SLIM IN HOCK.

Elli Rice Denied Charge of Being Drunk But Was Remanded to Bastille For Five Days.

———

DOLL JOHNS REPUBLICAN

CANDIDATE FOR SHERIFF

Has Ability and Merit, Having Been a Long Time Party Worker, and a Friend of the Workingman.

———

NEW FREIGHT OUTLET.

Gould Interests Reported to Be Negotiating With the E. & G.

The Gould Interests are making strong efforts to obtain a right-of-way through a section of the Monongahela river between the towns of Monessen and Charleroi.

The plan is to have a branch line from the Western Maryland and Pennsy to the Ohio River at Charleroi.

Mr. John H. Dill, of Monessen, says the plan is to have a branch line from the Ohio River to the Monongahela river.

Mr. John H. Dill, of Monessen, says the plan is to have a branch line from the Ohio River to the Monongahela river.

Mr. John H. Dill, of Monessen, says the plan is to have a branch line from the Ohio River to the Monongahela river.

Mr. John H. Dill, of Monessen, says the plan is to have a branch line from the Ohio River to the Monongahela river.

Mr. John H. Dill, of Monessen, says the plan is to have a branch line from the Ohio River to the Monongahela river.

Mr. John H. Dill, of Monessen, says the plan is to have a branch line from the Ohio River to the Monongahela river.

Mr. John H. Dill, of Monessen, says the plan is to have a branch line from the Ohio River to the Monongahela river.

Mr. John H. Dill, of Monessen, says the plan is to have a branch line from the Ohio River to the Monongahela river.

Mr. John H. Dill, of Monessen, says the plan is to have a branch line from the Ohio River to the Monongahela river.

Mr. John H. Dill, of Monessen, says the plan is to have a branch line from the Ohio River to the Monongahela river.

Mr. John H. Dill, of Monessen, says the plan is to have a branch line from the Ohio River to the Monongahela river.

Mr. John H. Dill, of Monessen, says the plan is to have a branch line from the Ohio River to the Monongahela river.

Mr. John H. Dill, of Monessen, says the plan is to have a branch line from the Ohio River to the Monongahela river.

Mr. John H. Dill, of Monessen, says the plan is to have a branch line from the Ohio River to the Monongahela river.

Mr. John H. Dill, of Monessen, says the plan is to have a branch line from the Ohio River to the Monongahela river.

Mr. John H. Dill, of Monessen, says the plan is to have a branch line from the Ohio River to the Monongahela river.

Mr. John H. Dill, of Monessen, says the plan is to have a branch line from the Ohio River to the Monongahela river.

Mr. John H. Dill, of Monessen, says the plan is to have a branch line from the Ohio River to the Monongahela river.

Mr. John H. Dill, of Monessen, says the plan is to have a branch line from the Ohio River to the Monongahela river.

Mr. John H. Dill, of Monessen, says the plan is to have a branch line from the Ohio River to the Monongahela river.

Mr. John H. Dill, of Monessen, says the plan is to have a branch line from the Ohio River to the Monongahela river.

Mr. John H. Dill, of Monessen, says the plan is to have a branch line from the Ohio River to the Monongahela river.

Mr. John H. Dill, of Monessen, says the plan is to have a branch line from the Ohio River to the Monongahela river.

Mr. John H. Dill, of Monessen, says the plan is to have a branch line from the Ohio River to the Monongahela river.

Mr. John H. Dill, of Monessen, says the plan is to have a branch line from the Ohio River to the Monongahela river.

Mr. John H. Dill, of Monessen, says the plan is to have a branch line from the Ohio River to the Monongahela river.

Mr. John H. Dill, of Monessen, says the plan is to have a branch line from the Ohio River to the Monongahela river.

Mr. John H. Dill, of Monessen, says the plan is to have a branch line from the Ohio River to the Monongahela river.

Mr. John H. Dill, of Monessen, says the plan is to have a branch line from the Ohio River to the Monongahela river.

Mr. John H. Dill, of Monessen, says the plan is to have a branch line from the Ohio River to the Monongahela river.

Mr. John H. Dill, of Monessen, says the plan is to have a branch line from the Ohio River to the Monongahela river.

Mr. John H. Dill, of Monessen, says the plan is to have a branch line from the Ohio River to the Monongahela river.

Mr. John H. Dill, of Monessen, says the plan is to have a branch line from the Ohio River to the Monongahela river.

Mr. John H. Dill, of Monessen, says the plan is to have a branch line from the Ohio River to the Monongahela river.

Mr. John H. Dill, of Monessen, says the plan is to have a branch line from the Ohio River to the Monongahela river.

Mr. John H. Dill, of Monessen, says the plan is to have a branch line from the Ohio River to the Monongahela river.

Mr. John H. Dill, of Monessen, says the plan is to have a branch line from the Ohio River to the Monongahela river.

Mr. John H. Dill, of Monessen, says the plan is to have a branch line from the Ohio River to the Monongahela river.

The Daily Courier.

Entered as second-class matter at the post office, Connellsville.

THE COURIER COMPANY,
Publishers,
The Daily Courier,
The Sunday Courier,
The Weekly Courier.

H. D. SNYDER,
President and Managing Editor
J. F. S. SCHMIDELLI,
Secretary and Treasurer.
Office, The Courier Building, 1214 Main Street, Connellsville, Pa.

SATURDAY EVENING, NOV. 2, 1907.

ROBINSON'S CONNELLSVILLE SPEECH.

Harold Lee Robinson, Prohibition candidate for law judges of Fayette county, finds himself much embarrassed by his Connellsville utterances, which were faithfully reported by The Courier, so far as we considered them interesting to the public. Mr. Robinson's views on what is vital in this campaign differ somewhat from those of a great many other citizens.

We did not pretend to reproduce his speech in full, but his objections to Mr. Van Swearingen's "political methods" were freely discussed by this paper editorially. There was no attempt at dodging the issue he tried to set up on the contrary. It was, we think, frank and frank met the following paragraphs:

The issue is not how much money Mr. Van Swearingen spent in the Republican primary, any more than it is how much money General Teller spent for Mr. Bryan. His cause is lost. Senator last fall. The issue is which candidate is the most capable. That candidate is Mr. Robinson.

The fierce wind-storm last night did its best to divert attention from serious attention to the fire department.

CConnellsville was the scene of a terrible tragedy last night. It was "good Friday."

Thamesburg will have a new and tender meeting to the German contingent. Sister Kraut and Immergut have fallen ill.

The Daily Democraat is warning the Rep. people to keep out of politics. It is a good idea. We have seen the Justice of the Peace try to make his rights as an American citizen, though it is natural within the power of the court to do so, to be upheld. We will aid of a magnifying glass any trace of that peculiar and suspicious political activity in the election returns.

It will be noticed that Mr. Robinson says his version of his speech is "practically exact." The city editor of The Courier reported the speech for this paper, and he feels certain that his report was practically correct. It is certain that there is practically no difference between them, save that The Courier's report omits Mr. Robinson's references to Mr. Van Swearingen's "political methods."

Mr. Robinson should not complain of this. The Courier is not the special vehicle of Prohibition policies. Mr. Robinson has an organ of his own which can be depended upon to report all that is done here, but, perhaps, it's certain that it has been throughout this campaign, not only wilfully and deliberately misrepresented the Republican candidates and the Republican issues, as well by falsification as by suppression, but it has also vilified and abused the Republican candidates in a manner not adopted by any Republican newspaper of the county in its treatment of the opposition. Mr. Robinson says he is not responsible for this. We hope he is, not, but the fact that he is a part owner of the organ guilty of this unfeeling political conduct creates the just suspicion that it is being done, if not by his direction, at least with his connivance.

Mr. Robinson truly says that "politics is war," and we have the authority of General William Tecumseh Sherman for the assertion that "War is hell." If Mr. Robinson has failed in any degree to appreciate the full meaning of the term, it cannot be claimed that his political organ has not, in a full knowledge of all the world implies, been a warrior bold, merciless and unscrupulous. It has tried unceasingly to conceal the real issues of the campaign, but the people can have not been blinded by the dirty dust it has raised, and it is all the more creditable to Mr. Robinson if it has publicly admitted the preeminent fitness of Mr. Van Swearingen as a candidate, an admission that we have thus far signally failed to notice, in the columns of The People's Tribune or The Daily Citizen.

The "political methods" which Mr. Robinson seeks to make an issue of in this campaign were the political methods of the primary and not specifically of Mr. Van Swearingen.

The Prohibition managers are naturally opposed to him and all Republicans. Their motives, which is the same as saying that they are opposed to Republican politics. Republicans expect this and are prepared to meet such opposition, but if Mr. Robinson or any other Prohibition candidate or politician expects that any considerable number of Republicans will join them in an effort to defeat and destroy the Republican party of Fayette county they are chasing rainbows. We repeat what we said yesterday:

There is no good and sufficient reason why any intelligent and decent Republican who votes this ticket Tuesday from top to bottom by putting upon it a single cross-mark.

Deacon George Sabbathauer of Pittsburgh, received an honored invitation to his funeral at the Connellsville meeting. Weller Roosevelt or his son support Van Swearingen. Mrs. Weller Roosevelt and Mr. Weller Roosevelt have just gone home trying to make it appear that J. V. Thompson was right for the son. A ticket of the Weller Roosevelt and Weller Roosevelt and Bryan are better than the first.

The Emerson scholars don't fail to much in your favor, and now, if you are somewhere on their way and mean are likely to get there sooner than they expect.

The Connellsville ministers certify that they are in sympathy with the Sabbath observance movement. All good citizens will favor the preservation of decent and orderly Sunday, but not all will endorse all the restrictions proposed by the Sabbath Observing Association. The points of difference are numerous and important.

We commend this observation to the thoughtful consideration of all who feel an interest in the question.

Lightfoot Harry says Van is all right, but he won't go. The people will have something to say about this.

Joshua V. Thompson gave the Rep. political ticket from the lecture an unqualified endorsement. Mr. Thompson is a banker. He never endorses, but what he doesn't think is perfectly good.

Senator Beverage is dropping a few knock-out drops in the Falstaffs cockpit.

The Hypnotic Eye may be all right when the stalks are gathered, but most people will agree that the Winchester is a safer and more effective proposition than some people and their friends like up.

With over 800 members the Young Men's Christian Association is one of the most active men's organizations in the country.

The time of police protection against the various depredations seems to have been entirely too far and too distant in sight.

The Postoffice Department is doing its best to put out the name of Bowes.

The fierce wind-storm last night did its best to divert attention from serious attention to the fire department.

CConnellsville was the scene of a terrible tragedy last night. It was "good Friday."

Thamesburg will have a new and tender meeting to the German contingent. Sister Kraut and Immergut have fallen ill.

The Daily Democraat is warning the Rep. people to keep out of politics. It is a good idea. We have seen the Justice of the Peace try to make his rights as an American citizen, though it is natural within the power of the court to do so, to be upheld. We will aid of a magnifying glass any trace of that peculiar and suspicious political activity in the election returns.

It will be noticed that Mr. Robinson says his version of his speech is "practically exact." The city editor of The Courier reported the speech for this paper, and he feels certain that his report was practically correct. It is certain that there is practically no difference between them, save that The Courier's report omits Mr. Robinson's references to Mr. Van Swearingen's "political methods."

Mr. Robinson should not complain of this. The Courier is not the special vehicle of Prohibition policies. Mr. Robinson has an organ of his own which can be depended upon to report all that is done here, but, perhaps, it's certain that it has been throughout this campaign, not only wilfully and deliberately misrepresented the Republican candidates and the Republican issues, as well by falsification as by suppression, but it has also vilified and abused the Republican candidates in a manner not adopted by any Republican newspaper of the county in its treatment of the opposition. Mr. Robinson says he is not responsible for this. We hope he is, not, but the fact that he is a part owner of the organ guilty of this unfeeling political conduct creates the just suspicion that it is being done, if not by his direction, at least with his connivance.

Editor Liddick insists that he was "practically exact." The city editor of The Courier reported the speech for this paper, and he feels certain that his report was practically correct. It is certain that there is practically no difference between them, save that The Courier's report omits Mr. Robinson's references to Mr. Van Swearingen's "political methods."

Mr. Robinson should not complain of this. The Courier is not the special vehicle of Prohibition policies. Mr. Robinson has an organ of his own which can be depended upon to report all that is done here, but, perhaps, it's certain that it has been throughout this campaign, not only wilfully and deliberately misrepresented the Republican candidates and the Republican issues, as well by falsification as by suppression, but it has also vilified and abused the Republican candidates in a manner not adopted by any Republican newspaper of the county in its treatment of the opposition. Mr. Robinson says he is not responsible for this. We hope he is, not, but the fact that he is a part owner of the organ guilty of this unfeeling political conduct creates the just suspicion that it is being done, if not by his direction, at least with his connivance.

Editor Liddick insists that he was "practically exact." The city editor of The Courier reported the speech for this paper, and he feels certain that his report was practically correct. It is certain that there is practically no difference between them, save that The Courier's report omits Mr. Robinson's references to Mr. Van Swearingen's "political methods."

Mr. Robinson should not complain of this. The Courier is not the special vehicle of Prohibition policies. Mr. Robinson has an organ of his own which can be depended upon to report all that is done here, but, perhaps, it's certain that it has been throughout this campaign, not only wilfully and deliberately misrepresented the Republican candidates and the Republican issues, as well by falsification as by suppression, but it has also vilified and abused the Republican candidates in a manner not adopted by any Republican newspaper of the county in its treatment of the opposition. Mr. Robinson says he is not responsible for this. We hope he is, not, but the fact that he is a part owner of the organ guilty of this unfeeling political conduct creates the just suspicion that it is being done, if not by his direction, at least with his connivance.

Editor Liddick insists that he was "practically exact." The city editor of The Courier reported the speech for this paper, and he feels certain that his report was practically correct. It is certain that there is practically no difference between them, save that The Courier's report omits Mr. Robinson's references to Mr. Van Swearingen's "political methods."

Mr. Robinson should not complain of this. The Courier is not the special vehicle of Prohibition policies. Mr. Robinson has an organ of his own which can be depended upon to report all that is done here, but, perhaps, it's certain that it has been throughout this campaign, not only wilfully and deliberately misrepresented the Republican candidates and the Republican issues, as well by falsification as by suppression, but it has also vilified and abused the Republican candidates in a manner not adopted by any Republican newspaper of the county in its treatment of the opposition. Mr. Robinson says he is not responsible for this. We hope he is, not, but the fact that he is a part owner of the organ guilty of this unfeeling political conduct creates the just suspicion that it is being done, if not by his direction, at least with his connivance.

Editor Liddick insists that he was "practically exact." The city editor of The Courier reported the speech for this paper, and he feels certain that his report was practically correct. It is certain that there is practically no difference between them, save that The Courier's report omits Mr. Robinson's references to Mr. Van Swearingen's "political methods."

Mr. Robinson should not complain of this. The Courier is not the special vehicle of Prohibition policies. Mr. Robinson has an organ of his own which can be depended upon to report all that is done here, but, perhaps, it's certain that it has been throughout this campaign, not only wilfully and deliberately misrepresented the Republican candidates and the Republican issues, as well by falsification as by suppression, but it has also vilified and abused the Republican candidates in a manner not adopted by any Republican newspaper of the county in its treatment of the opposition. Mr. Robinson says he is not responsible for this. We hope he is, not, but the fact that he is a part owner of the organ guilty of this unfeeling political conduct creates the just suspicion that it is being done, if not by his direction, at least with his connivance.

Editor Liddick insists that he was "practically exact." The city editor of The Courier reported the speech for this paper, and he feels certain that his report was practically correct. It is certain that there is practically no difference between them, save that The Courier's report omits Mr. Robinson's references to Mr. Van Swearingen's "political methods."

Mr. Robinson should not complain of this. The Courier is not the special vehicle of Prohibition policies. Mr. Robinson has an organ of his own which can be depended upon to report all that is done here, but, perhaps, it's certain that it has been throughout this campaign, not only wilfully and deliberately misrepresented the Republican candidates and the Republican issues, as well by falsification as by suppression, but it has also vilified and abused the Republican candidates in a manner not adopted by any Republican newspaper of the county in its treatment of the opposition. Mr. Robinson says he is not responsible for this. We hope he is, not, but the fact that he is a part owner of the organ guilty of this unfeeling political conduct creates the just suspicion that it is being done, if not by his direction, at least with his connivance.

Editor Liddick insists that he was "practically exact." The city editor of The Courier reported the speech for this paper, and he feels certain that his report was practically correct. It is certain that there is practically no difference between them, save that The Courier's report omits Mr. Robinson's references to Mr. Van Swearingen's "political methods."

Mr. Robinson should not complain of this. The Courier is not the special vehicle of Prohibition policies. Mr. Robinson has an organ of his own which can be depended upon to report all that is done here, but, perhaps, it's certain that it has been throughout this campaign, not only wilfully and deliberately misrepresented the Republican candidates and the Republican issues, as well by falsification as by suppression, but it has also vilified and abused the Republican candidates in a manner not adopted by any Republican newspaper of the county in its treatment of the opposition. Mr. Robinson says he is not responsible for this. We hope he is, not, but the fact that he is a part owner of the organ guilty of this unfeeling political conduct creates the just suspicion that it is being done, if not by his direction, at least with his connivance.

Editor Liddick insists that he was "practically exact." The city editor of The Courier reported the speech for this paper, and he feels certain that his report was practically correct. It is certain that there is practically no difference between them, save that The Courier's report omits Mr. Robinson's references to Mr. Van Swearingen's "political methods."

Mr. Robinson should not complain of this. The Courier is not the special vehicle of Prohibition policies. Mr. Robinson has an organ of his own which can be depended upon to report all that is done here, but, perhaps, it's certain that it has been throughout this campaign, not only wilfully and deliberately misrepresented the Republican candidates and the Republican issues, as well by falsification as by suppression, but it has also vilified and abused the Republican candidates in a manner not adopted by any Republican newspaper of the county in its treatment of the opposition. Mr. Robinson says he is not responsible for this. We hope he is, not, but the fact that he is a part owner of the organ guilty of this unfeeling political conduct creates the just suspicion that it is being done, if not by his direction, at least with his connivance.

Editor Liddick insists that he was "practically exact." The city editor of The Courier reported the speech for this paper, and he feels certain that his report was practically correct. It is certain that there is practically no difference between them, save that The Courier's report omits Mr. Robinson's references to Mr. Van Swearingen's "political methods."

Mr. Robinson should not complain of this. The Courier is not the special vehicle of Prohibition policies. Mr. Robinson has an organ of his own which can be depended upon to report all that is done here, but, perhaps, it's certain that it has been throughout this campaign, not only wilfully and deliberately misrepresented the Republican candidates and the Republican issues, as well by falsification as by suppression, but it has also vilified and abused the Republican candidates in a manner not adopted by any Republican newspaper of the county in its treatment of the opposition. Mr. Robinson says he is not responsible for this. We hope he is, not, but the fact that he is a part owner of the organ guilty of this unfeeling political conduct creates the just suspicion that it is being done, if not by his direction, at least with his connivance.

Editor Liddick insists that he was "practically exact." The city editor of The Courier reported the speech for this paper, and he feels certain that his report was practically correct. It is certain that there is practically no difference between them, save that The Courier's report omits Mr. Robinson's references to Mr. Van Swearingen's "political methods."

Mr. Robinson should not complain of this. The Courier is not the special vehicle of Prohibition policies. Mr. Robinson has an organ of his own which can be depended upon to report all that is done here, but, perhaps, it's certain that it has been throughout this campaign, not only wilfully and deliberately misrepresented the Republican candidates and the Republican issues, as well by falsification as by suppression, but it has also vilified and abused the Republican candidates in a manner not adopted by any Republican newspaper of the county in its treatment of the opposition. Mr. Robinson says he is not responsible for this. We hope he is, not, but the fact that he is a part owner of the organ guilty of this unfeeling political conduct creates the just suspicion that it is being done, if not by his direction, at least with his connivance.

Editor Liddick insists that he was "practically exact." The city editor of The Courier reported the speech for this paper, and he feels certain that his report was practically correct. It is certain that there is practically no difference between them, save that The Courier's report omits Mr. Robinson's references to Mr. Van Swearingen's "political methods."

Mr. Robinson should not complain of this. The Courier is not the special vehicle of Prohibition policies. Mr. Robinson has an organ of his own which can be depended upon to report all that is done here, but, perhaps, it's certain that it has been throughout this campaign, not only wilfully and deliberately misrepresented the Republican candidates and the Republican issues, as well by falsification as by suppression, but it has also vilified and abused the Republican candidates in a manner not adopted by any Republican newspaper of the county in its treatment of the opposition. Mr. Robinson says he is not responsible for this. We hope he is, not, but the fact that he is a part owner of the organ guilty of this unfeeling political conduct creates the just suspicion that it is being done, if not by his direction, at least with his connivance.

Editor Liddick insists that he was "practically exact." The city editor of The Courier reported the speech for this paper, and he feels certain that his report was practically correct. It is certain that there is practically no difference between them, save that The Courier's report omits Mr. Robinson's references to Mr. Van Swearingen's "political methods."

Mr. Robinson should not complain of this. The Courier is not the special vehicle of Prohibition policies. Mr. Robinson has an organ of his own which can be depended upon to report all that is done here, but, perhaps, it's certain that it has been throughout this campaign, not only wilfully and deliberately misrepresented the Republican candidates and the Republican issues, as well by falsification as by suppression, but it has also vilified and abused the Republican candidates in a manner not adopted by any Republican newspaper of the county in its treatment of the opposition. Mr. Robinson says he is not responsible for this. We hope he is, not, but the fact that he is a part owner of the organ guilty of this unfeeling political conduct creates the just suspicion that it is being done, if not by his direction, at least with his connivance.

Editor Liddick insists that he was "practically exact." The city editor of The Courier reported the speech for this paper, and he feels certain that his report was practically correct. It is certain that there is practically no difference between them, save that The Courier's report omits Mr. Robinson's references to Mr. Van Swearingen's "political methods."

Mr. Robinson should not complain of this. The Courier is not the special vehicle of Prohibition policies. Mr. Robinson has an organ of his own which can be depended upon to report all that is done here, but, perhaps, it's certain that it has been throughout this campaign, not only wilfully and deliberately misrepresented the Republican candidates and the Republican issues, as well by falsification as by suppression, but it has also vilified and abused the Republican candidates in a manner not adopted by any Republican newspaper of the county in its treatment of the opposition. Mr. Robinson says he is not responsible for this. We hope he is, not, but the fact that he is a part owner of the organ guilty of this unfeeling political conduct creates the just suspicion that it is being done, if not by his direction, at least with his connivance.

Editor Liddick insists that he was "practically exact." The city editor of The Courier reported the speech for this paper, and he feels certain that his report was practically correct. It is certain that there is practically no difference between them, save that The Courier's report omits Mr. Robinson's references to Mr. Van Swearingen's "political methods."

Mr. Robinson should not complain of this. The Courier is not the special vehicle of Prohibition policies. Mr. Robinson has an organ of his own which can be depended upon to report all that is done here, but, perhaps, it's certain that it has been throughout this campaign, not only wilfully and deliberately misrepresented the Republican candidates and the Republican issues, as well by falsification as by suppression, but it has also vilified and abused the Republican candidates in a manner not adopted by any Republican newspaper of the county in its treatment of the opposition. Mr. Robinson says he is not responsible for this. We hope he is, not, but the fact that he is a part owner of the organ guilty of this unfeeling political conduct creates the just suspicion that it is being done, if not by his direction, at least with his connivance.

Editor Liddick insists that he was "practically exact." The city editor of The Courier reported the speech for this paper, and he feels certain that his report was practically correct. It is certain that there is practically no difference between them, save that The Courier's report omits Mr. Robinson's references to Mr. Van Swearingen's "political methods."

Mr. Robinson should not complain of this. The Courier is not the special vehicle of Prohibition policies. Mr. Robinson has an organ of his own which can be depended upon to report all that is done here, but, perhaps, it's certain that it has been throughout this campaign, not only wilfully and deliberately misrepresented the Republican candidates and the Republican issues, as well by falsification as by suppression, but it has also vilified and abused the Republican candidates in a manner not adopted by any Republican newspaper of the county in its treatment of the opposition. Mr. Robinson says he is not responsible for this. We hope he is, not, but the fact that he is a part owner of the organ guilty of this unfeeling political conduct creates the just suspicion that it is being done, if not by his direction, at least with his connivance.

Editor Liddick insists that he was "practically exact." The city editor of The Courier reported the speech for this paper, and he feels certain that his report was practically correct. It is certain that there is practically no difference between them, save that The Courier's report omits Mr. Robinson's references to Mr. Van Swearingen's "political methods."

Mr. Robinson should not complain of this. The Courier is not the special vehicle of Prohibition policies. Mr. Robinson has an organ of his own which can be depended upon to report all that is done here, but, perhaps, it's certain that it has been throughout this campaign, not only wilfully and deliberately misrepresented the

EIGHT HUNDRED MARK

It Was Passed by Y. M. C.
A. in Membership Campaign.

CONNELLSVILLE HOLDS RECORD.

Membership Greatest for Population in the Y. M. C. A. in America—In Western Pennsylvania We Stand
Next to Pittsburgh

The great membership campaign carried on for 10 days by the Young Men's Christian Association of Con-nellesville closed last night at a late hour with a cheering crowd of members at the Y. M. C. A. building that had assembled to hear the final returns from the workers. Pumpkin pie, ginger bread, coffee and cake were served to the crowd while the returns were coming in. Charles C. Mitchell and W. N. Leche were the last to come in, but the goal had been reached before those enthusiasts left the street, where they were buttonholing the last man who dared to venture to the street. The goal mark had been passed before 9 o'clock, although new ones were added after 10 o'clock, and the figures up to 5 p.m. It was a characteristic Connellsville test whether the record was to be broken in this Association that has gone on to victory. President Kilpatrick, W. N.
Leche, Chairman of the Membership Committee, and Secretary Lby, were greatly elated over the splendid results.

Charles C. Mitchell leads all work ers with 105 new members added by his efforts alone. Mr. Mitchell is just as popular among all classes and shows that he is an adept at overtaking people before they do as he is at undertaking them after. Indeed Mr. Mitchell was elected to the office at every mention of his name. Mr.

Leche the Chairman made a splendid record, too, adding 60 to his credit.

Dr. W. Gallagher came in after his evening office hours and added five more to his list, running it up to 10.

This victory puts Connellsville in the very foremost in membership in the North American Association. It counts in proportion to the population has the largest membership in Western Pennsylvania outside of Pittsburgh. The State Association will sit up and take notice when they come to Connellsville in February for the State Convention. Pittsburgh did most time on her building campaign but Connellsville has proved a better time and could have beaten Pittsburgh a little time. The Association in Connellsville has a large place in the hearts of the public. May it ever move worthy of its good reputation.

The prizes will be announced in the men's meeting Sunday afternoon. The great lesson to us of the miracles of Jesus will be given so that meetings and special music by the male choir will be rendered. It will be a jubilant meeting over the great success. Every member and friend should attend.
Here are a few of the records of the work:

Charles C. Mitchell 105 W. N.
Leche 67 J. L. Shiel 19 W. N. Bill
W. S. B. Dodge 18 Worth Kline
J. D. G. Gilligan 12 W. S.
Douglas S. F. O. Welleran E.

NO CHANGE

Of Importance Will Be Made in Time of B & O. "Range on the Fall Schedule.

The fall time card meeting of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad which was held Wednesday and Thursday at the Central building, Baltimore, and which was attended by all the engineering and traffic officials of the road, has adjourned. Practically no changes were made in the departure and arrival of both through and local trains and the new time card, which will become effective November 17, will be similar to the one now in effect.

In meeting was presided over by General Manager L. M. Martin and was attended by L. Martin, Maurice Passenger traffic, C. S. Worth, Manager Freight traffic, C. W. Bassett, Director, B. N. Austin, Children, General Passenger Agent, J.
W. Gilligan, Baltimore, General
Traffic Agent, C. W. Gillow, Baltimore, Superintendent of Transportation,
F. C. Butcher, Baltimore,
Robt. J. Dunc, Pittsburgh, and W. C.
Lore, Vice-Chairman, General Superintendent, B. W. Duer, Superintendent at Chicago, and the various District Superintendents.

HALLOWEEN PARTY

Given at Brinkerton, Pa., by Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Blitz

One of the prettiest events of the fall season was a Halloween party given at the home of Superintendent and Mrs. J. H. Blitz at Brinkerton by Misses Estelle M. Blitz, Miss Signores, Carrie Moore and Isabel Smith. The rooms were beautifully decorated with jack o'lanterns, autumn leaves and corn.

The refreshments were also in keeping with the Halloween spirit. The old Halloween games were enjoyed in and a most enjoyable evening was spent. A large number of guests were present.

MORE OVENS OUT

Frick Coke Company Will Blow Out
Eight Hundred Next Week

The H. C. Frick Coke Company has decided to blow out 800 more ovens in the coke region next Monday, making which will make a total of 1,800 ovens blown out within the last few days.

The ovens are being blown out in order to reduce the cost of coal.

Congressman Acheson Says People of Pennsylvania Are for Jun or Senator for President

FOR KNOX.

Special to The Courier

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—House voted by a strong field upon the people and dominates the situation politically said Representative C. E. Acheson who was in Washington in a short time yesterday. "I have found solid sentiment in various parts of the country and I find people all talking the same way. They would like to have President Roosevelt run for re-election, but if he will not do that then they want a man whom they are satisfied will carry out his policies.
In other words, no man can be the nominee of the Republican party who is not satisfactory to the people.
Mr. Acheson was asked the name of Pennsylvania's next President. "They believe it is the type of man who should succeed Mr. Roosevelt and they have confidence in him. Mr. Roosevelt made his record in the Department of Justice and if we should elect a President the public knows what they can expect from him."

APPROVE WORK.

Misters Adopt Resolution on Endorsing Sabbath Observance Movement in Connellsville

The following resolutions were adopted at the Connellsville Ministerial Association in connelville on Thursday afternoon endorsing the movement started in Connellsville some time ago to Sabbath observance.

It is such a simple thing to do that it is hard to understand why so many people do not do it. It is a matter of conscience and it is a matter of right and wrong.
It is a matter of duty and it is a matter of honor. It is a matter of personal dignity and it is a matter of public welfare. It is a matter of personal sympathy and it is a matter of public sympathy.

At the luncheon of the Methodist Episcopal church Friday evening which the men of the church were in a movement was made toward permanent organization for social and business purposes by the election of
A. M. Stapp as Chairman and Mr.
Maurice Cessling as Secretary, with Alfred Morris, Lee, and Swinnerton, a committee to draft resolutions for the future government of the body.

Organized Permanently
At the luncheon of the Methodist Episcopal church Friday evening
which the men of the church were in a movement was made toward permanent organization for social and business purposes by the election of
A. M. Stapp as Chairman and Mr.
Maurice Cessling as Secretary, with Alfred Morris, Lee, and Swin-
nerton, a committee to draft resolutions for the future government of the body.

Distribution of Centennial Histories
All persons who have stated their address to the Centennial Histories of Connellsville can get the same by writing to the Pennsylvania State R.

Classification Ads
In The Courier, bids, results. Only one cent a word. Try em.

An ad in our classified column will bring you results. One cent a word.

An Appeal to Reason.

There isn't the slightest use in giving more than we have for price options when we give you exactly what is ordered by your advertiser and give you the highest quality in possible to obtain. It drugs and chemicals used in this present time.

You may pay more but you can get it any better. You may pay less but you get cheaper. It is no time to go hunting for a bargain when you want a prescribed price for this time. We charge a fair price for the best it is possible to obtain. It pays us, it will pay you.

Graham & Co.,

Cor. Pittsburg and Apple Sts.,

CONNELLSVILLE, PA.

A Broad Hint to Newly-
Weds
From the Kiddos.

You young married folk... have all others east to investigate our proposition to furnish you home completely and in integrity, getting our payment each week in little bits according to your resources.

Apply business principles to your buying, if we do. We buy our goods in enormous quantities, getting the benefit of the lowest market price on highest class goods. If we bought a little at a time, we would have to pay dearly for it.

If you can furnish your home a little at a time, you will get a high price advantage, as though you bought a complete outfit at once. The outfit plan is the most comfortable, too, for your home is fully equipped, not just halfway.

Our sole object in publishing this little talk is to get you to INV'TL GAR. If we can't improve to your satisfaction that we can undersell any other house—why then you are under no obligation to buy. It's extremely simple.

LET THE KIDDOS HELP YOU DO YOUR PLANNING.*AARON'S "SUCCESS" STEEL RANGE.

This is our new improved success Steel Range. It is manufactured exclusively for us and cannot be found in any other store in Western Pennsylvania. The body is of blue polished steel. The door is made of steel and has a large fire box with heavy iron bars which are guaranteed for three years. The door is self-shutting and dumpling is a punch to the back of the range. The door is made of steel and is secured with a lock. It is also equipped with a steel door handle and a steel door lock. The door is made of steel and is secured with a lock. The door is made of steel and is secured with a lock.
$42.50

OTHER RANGES AS LOW AS $35

W. Are Exclusive Agents for the Hoosier Kitchen Cabinet

Iron Bed Outfit

75¢

$5.95

1.10

$15.00

1.45

$25.00

50c

$32.50

AARON'S CHASE LEATHER
BED DAVENTPORT

This is what everyone needs when you live in a house or an apartment house. It serves a double purpose as a couch and is a bed. It only takes a moment and it is transformed into a comfortable bed to take care of an unexpected guest. It is upholstered in the finest chaste leather having rich leather. It has a genuine quarter sawed frame and solid finishes having two posts surrounded by heavily carved dragon heads and massive claw feet. It is solid, substantial, every piece of furniture that you may show your friends with pride. The price is ridiculously low, in fact there is no excuse for not buying it delivered $45.00

CASH OR$10.50 to $45

THE LITTLE
KIDDOS
Will Work Wonders in Magic Time... Try Them

His Courtship

By HELEN R. MARTIN.
Author of "Tillie: A Mennonite Maid."

COPYRIGHT, 1907, BY MCCLURE PHILLIPS & COMPANY.

The kidnappers deserted their own side by their cowardice. If they had given you any hint that they held Euclid as a hostage?"
He put out questioning.
"Well," she asked excitedly.
"You would not have ignored their communions?"
"If I had not had any last reason for holding her, of course not. What a question to ask!"
He took from his pocket a long envelope and drew from it a manuscript. It was the "confession".
"Perhaps, after all, this will be the best way to tell you!"
He handed it to her.
"Read it, please, while I wait."
He rose and walked to the farthest end of the parlor—left her, with fingers that shook, folded the paper.
Kinross knew that he did an unbusiness-like thing in letting the paper mental picture of Euclid transplanted into this house—her own home! He saw the girl in all her exquisite delicacy of face and form, her grace, her timidity, her natural dignity, a little figure, abrupt manner and almost coarse features.

"The girl would appear distinguishable, but she is crude, undisciplined, bedecked in her." he thought.
"Then she is a country girl, quite unfit for decent society?" she demanded.
"It depends upon what you mean by decent!"
"Is she quite hopeless, or could something possibly be done for her?"
Her blood sought to tell for some time, he said, not without a touch of malice.
"Unless she has been ruined by her environment. And it would be too late now to make up for her lack of education. Of course they never sent her to school!"
Not after she was twelve years old."

"Gracious!"
"She has never been away from the farm except," he stoically added. "To me, the faster parents to town to market to sell vegetables, butter and eggs, amercasse, apple butter, pumpkins, sausages and sauerkraut!"

She gazed at him speechless.
"Let her have it," he thought. "It will do her good. If she does the right things, she will find out for herself what the child really is."

"What would the poor girl do with wealth?" she asked in a hollow voice.
"You say she is utterly unfit to use it better than it!"

His eyes were constantly drawn to the "confession," which she firmly held in her hand. He had an apprehension that at any moment he might see her tear it into shreds and destroy it to do his worst. Yet an inherent instinct of courtesy, stronger than vaunted cynicism, made it impossible for him to ask her for the paper until he had given her every chance to return it reluctantly.

"A fine lawyer I'd make!" he sneered at himself.

"Then," he continued, "grinding for the sake of argument, that I believed this paper," tipping it with her finger, "I would at least have to try to live like her somehow before I turned over to her the control of her money. It would be an actual trial for her to give it to her before she was some prepared to use it rationally and decently, I think."

"How would you suggest from your knowledge of her that I go about it?"

She put the question tentatively.

"You might travel with her. There's Europe, you know. Art galleries and cathedrals, you may be thinking."

"I can't understand," Peter Klaross how you can just touch a thing which you don't see touches me to the quick—in my most vulnerable spot my pride!"

"But you know I always did think you pampered that vulnerable spot little exposure of the spot won't burn it off," he began.

"I told her briefly of his summer at the farm and of his investigation of the haunted room. He did not however mention his mighty sources with Euclid. Miss Woblett was nothing but a commoner."

"Now in the world Peter did you come by this paper?" she began.

He told her briefly of his summer at the farm and of his investigation of the haunted room. He did not however mention his mighty sources with Euclid. Miss Woblett was nothing but a commoner."

"I believe this story?" Her questions were abrupt and sharp.

"Do. Do you?"

"I am open to conviction. And you would tell me that this paper remained undiscovered all these years and that my neck has been kept by this farmer's family knowing nothing of her or in?" You say you met her at this fair?"

"Yes."

"The proof of her identity offered her she disdained.

He drew from his pocket a small box and handed it to her. She quickly opened it and took out the chain and locket.

Her face grew whiter as she handled them, and her voice was not steady.

"Tell me of the girl."

Her tone was filled with anxiety.

Woblett was afraid of losing her wealth or her fear of hearing an unbecoming account of her niece that drew those deep lines about her strong mouth.

"She has been brought up in the farmer's family—not quite as a member of the family—but she is well educated."

"I should hope not."

"But rather as their servant."

She sank back in her chair looking as though he had struck her in the face.

"What do you think?"

She has done every sort of menial work to pay them for giving her home. She has been a domestic slave for them."

He felt that he was cruel, but he was speaking advisedly, and at least his purpose in putting the case so brutally was merciful—to both Euclid and her.

"A servant! To a farmer's family!

My niece!"

As she spoke Klaross had a sudden leaves his own hands, but Miss Woblett was an old family friend and when it came to the point he found himself quite unable to offer her the courtesy of handing her the copy of the original document which had been sent with him for that purpose.

Miss Woblett

CHAPTER XXI

It seemed to him a very long time before he was summoned back to her.

She was white to the bone as they sat down again together, but she was a woman of strong will, and her voice was steady when she spoke to him.

"Now in the world Peter did you come by this paper?" she began.

He told her briefly of his summer at the farm and of his investigation of the haunted room. He did not however mention his mighty sources with Euclid. Miss Woblett was nothing but a commoner."

"I believe this story?" Her questions were abrupt and sharp.

"Do. Do you?"

"I am open to conviction. And you would tell me that this paper remained undiscovered all these years and that my neck has been kept by this farmer's family knowing nothing of her or in?" You say you met her at this fair?"

"Yes."

"The proof of her identity offered her she disdained.

He drew from his pocket a small box and handed it to her. She quickly opened it and took out the chain and locket.

Her face grew whiter as she handled them, and her voice was not steady.

"Tell me of the girl."

Her tone was filled with anxiety.

Woblett was afraid of losing her wealth or her fear of hearing an unbecoming account of her niece that drew those deep lines about her strong mouth.

"She has been brought up in the farmer's family—not quite as a member of the family—but she is well educated."

"I should hope not."

"But rather as their servant."

She sank back in her chair looking as though he had struck her in the face.

"What do you think?"

She has done every sort of menial work to pay them for giving her home. She has been a domestic slave for them."

He felt that he was cruel, but he was speaking advisedly, and at least his purpose in putting the case so brutally was merciful—to both Euclid and her.

"A servant! To a farmer's family!

My niece!"

As she spoke Klaross had a sudden

Moerlein's

certainly does taste good—it's delicious—everybody admits that, but Moerlein quality means not only flavor, but purity and healthfulness as well—it's a beer that will strengthen while it refreshes you.

Sold everywhere on draught or in bottle

PITTSBURGH DISTRIBUTOR

ERNEST F. RUSCH
516 SECOND AVE.

Bell Phone, Court 1313

P & A Phone, 887

DR. GROWER

Medical and Surgical Institute, A. C. Hagan Block No. 28 East Main Street Uniontown, Pa.

DR. A. W. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills

